

Hemex Health Named TiE50 Award Winner at TiEcon

Hemex Health, creator of the Gazelle reader diagnostic device, is excited to announce that it has been selected as a 2021 TiE50 Winner in the prestigious TiE50 Awards Program. This ten-year-old awards competition is a program of TiEcon, the world's largest conference for tech entrepreneurs. Hemex Health was recognized for its Gazelle point-of-care diagnostic platform.

“Hemex is honored to be named a TiE 50 company, especially because TiE Portland, TiE Silicon Valley and TiE Global have been supportive investors and advisors. Now, even as our Gazelle diagnostic has been launched and is selling into 9 countries, TiE continues to provide us with excellent advice and connections as we move into the next stage for our company,” said Patti White, Hemex CEO.

“Companies from diverse fields and in various stages made their applications to our prestigious TiE50 showcasing innovation and disruption. In addition to many sponsors for the TiE50 program, we also had in kind sponsors offering a desirable list of perks and benefits apart from the award and recognition. TiE50 continues to partner with Meet the Draper’s, a ground-breaking reality show to give an opportunity to select companies to pitch to the show,” said Kumar Sripadam, TiE50 Program Chair.

“TiE Silicon Valley is excited to announce TIE50 winners. TIE50 awards is our way of giving visibility to startups and connect them with our sponsors, partners and investors in the TiE Ecosystem” said AGK Karunakaran, President, TiE Silicon Valley

The TiE50 Awards were presented virtually to the winners during a ceremony on May 8th. For more information, please go to <https://www.tiecon.org/tie50>
